Please join the Fink Center for Finance & Investments and Center for Global Management (CGM) in hosting an informal luncheon with Thomas Seale ('82). Thomas is based in Luxembourg and is Chief Executive Officer of European Fund Administration S.A. (EFA), an independent company servicing investment funds, unit-linked insurance products, private equity funds, real estate funds, hedge funds and funds of funds. The luncheon will provide an opportunity for interested MBA students to meet with Thomas in an informal and interactive setting and hear more about his thoughts and experiences on his industry and insights on the business from a global perspective, and also his experience working and doing business internationally.

About Thomas Seale ('82)

Thomas Seale (MBA '82) is Chief Executive Officer, European Fund Administration S.A. (EFA), an independent company servicing investment funds, unit-linked insurance products, private equity funds, real estate funds, hedge funds and funds of hedge funds. With 214 clients, representing 2,686 funds worth $135 billion, and working in collaboration with 93 custodians and 12 prime brokers, EFA is the leading provider of administration services to third parties in Luxembourg, the largest centre for pan-European and global distribution of investment funds.

Seale is a Member of the CSSF OPC Committee, Chairman of LUXFLAG (Luxembourg Fund Labelling Agency), Member of the Board of ALFI (Association of the Luxembourg Fund Industry), past Chairman of ALFI's Responsible Investing Technical Committee and ALFI's Microfinance Sub-Committee. He also served as Chairman of ALFI from 2003-2007, and Vice-Chairman from 2007-2011. Before EFA, Seale was Managing Director and Country Corporate Officer for Citibank Luxembourg, led Product Marketing for The Citibank Private Bank in Switzerland, and worked as a Management Consultant for the Mac Group in Paris and Los Angeles.

Seale holds an MA in Economics and an MBA from the University of California at Los Angeles. He received his BA (with honours) in Economics from the University of California at Santa Cruz and he spent a year studying abroad at St. Andrews University in Scotland.
